

ST. LOUIS POLICE DEPARTMENT
BUSINESS KEY HOLDER INFORMATION

The St. Louis Police Department maintains a list of “key holders” for all businesses located within the City of St. Louis. This list is utilized to contact an owner, employee, or agent of a local business in the event of an emergency or other type of situation found or reported after normal business hours.

The St. Louis Police Department and/or Central Dispatch will use the key holder information to notify the correct person for the business of the situation. If we have no keyholder information, we will not be able to notify the owner or employee of an emergency, damage, or another type of situation that would require your attention. This could result in further damage or loss of property.

We are asking for your assistance in helping us provide the best service possible to the businesses of our city.

Please take a moment to complete this form.
